PRODUCT DISCONTINUATION
Softing Industrial Automation GmbH

Product: epGate PN and associated software license

Dear customer,

We would hereby like to inform you that the epGate PN and its associated software license will be discontinued effective June 30, 2027. All products listed in the appendix are going to be discontinued by this date. Please place an order for the required components latest by this date.

In the case that a last manufacturing process should not be feasible any more due to technical or commercial reasons, we will inform you and try to find a solution. If a solution cannot be found, we reserve the right to decline the order.

The estimated delivery date will be announced with the acceptance of order.
Components, which are available from stock, will be delivered right away.
Components, which must be assembled in a last manufacturing process, will be delivered at the estimated delivery date announced in the acceptance of order.

The regular product maintenance of the epGate PN software will be ceased by October/30/2026. Maintenance work due to guarantee claims will be performed independent from that date according to the legal regulations.

We will continue to offer epGate PN hardware repair on request depending on our possibilities and on the availability of hardware components.
